(Map at: http://www.campusmap.ualberta.ca/map\_bldg.cfm?bldg\_id=23)
Cost: $2/ member child. You must be a current member.
Note: The event is limited to 35 students.

Discover E, a not-for-profit, student-run program at the University of Alberta with the goal of fostering interest in science, engineering, and technology in youth, will be presenting a workshop on robotics, on June 3rd 2006, at the University of Alberta.

This workshop uses LEGO Mindstorms Robotics and other electronic technology to introduce students to the wonderful world of robotics! In the course of 2 hours, students will learn about the history of robotics, new frontiers in the field, and other fun information about robotics. They will also have the chance to try their hand at programming a robot of their own! This workshop is offered directly on the University of Alberta campus.

Please remember to bring this announcement with you so you know where to find us.

You may be asked to sign a waiver form.
